Data & Business Intelligence Analyst transforming data into insights for strategic decision-making | Python, Power BI, SQL, DAX

Resumo

Throughout my professional journey, I have always been driven by curiosity and analytical thinking. This mindset led me to work in the data field, where I transform business questions into analyses that support strategic, data-driven decision-making.

I have experience in data analysis, SQL, Power BI, and Python, along with a background in Business Management. Currently, I work at JR8 Group as a Mid-Level Financial Data Analyst, contributing to financial analysis, performance indicators, and reports that support executive decision-making.

My focus is on using data as a strategic asset, connecting technical analysis with real business needs.
